COACH EDDIE DONOVAN

This is Eddie Donovan's third season as coach of the New York Knickerbockers. He is 40 years old, a resident of Elizabeth, N. J., and prior to taking over the Knicks on May 8, 1961, he coached St. Bonaventure University's court teams for eight years. He led the Bonnies to the final of the 1960 Holiday Festival, in Madison Square Garden, losing to Ohio State by two points. St. Bonaventure, under Donovan, competed in four straight National Invitation Tournaments, in New York, and in the 1961 National Collegiate championship. His eight-year won-loss record was 139-57.

Donovan was named 1961 "Coach of the Year" by the New York Basketball Writers Association, after the Bonnies had posted a 24-4 mark and were repeatedly No. 2 or 3 in the weekly national polls conducted by the Associated Press and United Press-International.

The mild-mannered, crew-cut Donovan is a figure of dignity, dedication and detail and popular with players, fans and sportswriters. "I am very happy to have Eddie Donovan as our coach," said Ned Irish, president of Madison Square Garden.

Donovan, who came out of the New Jersey playgrounds and Elizabeth's St. Patrick's High School, enrolled at St. Bonaventure in 1946. He played basketball there three years, but retired because of a broken hand in his senior season to coach the freshman team. Following a Navy hitch he joined the St. Bonaventure faculty in 1953 after teaching in the Olean, N. Y., public school system and coaching the Olean High School team. His two-year scholastic record was 30 victories in 39 starts, including a sectional championship.

At St. Bonaventure, Eddie developed Tom Stith, twice an All-America selection. Stith was runner-up to Oscar Robertson in national scoring in 1960 with a 31.5 average and third in 1961 with a 29.6 norm.

Budd showed marked improvement last season, his third with the club, when he scored 739 points for a 9.5 average, as compared to his 1961-62 figures of 514 for a 6.5 norm. Also his rebounds rose from 345 to 395. He had the best shooting percentage of all Knicks, hitting for .502, a very fine average for a corner man. Dave is one of the best shots in the league, but he is a dedicated team player, always looking for the free man in better position to shoot. Durable, he's missed only three games in the past two years and he does an excellent job under the boards against taller opponents. He excells on defense, usually guarding the opposing team's top forward and drawing their unstinted admiration. Budd, who first hit national headlines at Wake Forest College, led the Deacons in scoring and rebounding in his sophomore and junior seasons. He sparked Wake Forest to the 1959 Dixie Classic title and to a first place tie with North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference. His Wake Forest career totals were 1,014 points, a 13.5 average for 75 games, and 682 rebounds, a 9.1 norm. He was New York's No. 2 draft selection in 1960, being strongly recommended by his coach Bones McKinney, a former NBA star with Washington and Boston.

DONNIS BUTCHER

Age*—27, born in Williamsport, Ky., Feb. 8, 1936
Height*—6 feet 2 inches. Weight—187 pounds
Home*—Williamsport, Ky. College—Pikeville, Ky.

This rugged, aggressive guard showed considerable improvement last season, his second with the Knicks, when used more frequently by Coach Donovan. From 138 points (47 games) and a 2.9 average in 1961-62, Donnis raised his totals to 475 and a 7.0 norm in 1962-63 for 68 contests. As a play maker his assists rose from 51 to 136 and his rebounds from 82 to 178. He had a commendable field goal percentage of .406 and frequently earned the plaudits of fans with his competitive spirit. Butcher was drafted by New York in 1961, but a leg injury, received in baseball, kept him from reporting to training camp. He didn't debut with the Knicks that season until Dec. 1. He won national attention in small college ranks while at Pikeville, Ky., where he totalled 2,073 points in 88 games for a career average of 23.6. His rebounds were 1,086 and his assists 750. Butcher was picked on the All-Kentucky Conference team three years running. He captained the Meade High School team, in his home town of Williamsport, Ky., that won 32 straight games in 1954-55. His honors included all-state, all-regional and all-district. Prior to entering college, Butcher played AAU basketball for three years with National Cash Register of Dayton, O. Hails from agricultural and coal mining area of Kentucky. Has five-year old daughter, Deborah.

KNICKS REACHED PLAYOFF FINAL THREE TIMES

The Knicks' best season was 1952-53 when they led the Eastern Division with 47-23, a .671 percentage. They also topped the division the following season (44-28) but were defeated both times in the playoffs. The 1952-53 loss to the Minneapolis Lakers marked the third straight season the Knicks had reached and been defeated in the final playoff round.

AL BUTLER

Age*—25, born in Rochester, N. Y., July 9, 1938
Height*—6 feet 2 inches. Weight—175 pounds
Home*—Rochester, N. Y. College—Niagara

This is Butler's third season in the NBA. New York bought him from the Boston Celtics early in December of 1961 after he had appeared in five games with the world champions. Al was Boston's second draft selection in 1961. He alternated in the New York backcourt last season with Richie Guerin, Gene Shue, Tom Gola and Dennis Butcher, scoring 738 points for a 10.0 average in 74 games. For 54 games with the Knicks in 1961-62, Butler had 800 points for a 14.8 norm. He was second to Guerin in assists with 203, but last season dropped 156 as he saw less action with Gola and Shue available. As a junior at Niagara, Al collected 748 points, a 28.8 pace, for sixth spot in national scoring. At Rochester's East High School, in 1957, he was voted to the All-America scholastic team, along with such headliners as Jerry Lucas, Tony Jackson and Tom Meschery. Butler's three-year total at Niagara was 1,596. He set school records in his sophomore and junior campaigns. A history major he once taught at Niagara Falls' Gaskell Junior High School. Last Summer he was with one of the Knick units touring five Eastern states giving clinics for boy campers.

LEN CHAPPELL

Age*—22, born in Portage, Pa., Jan. 31, 1941
Height*—6 feet 8 inches. Weight—240 pounds
Home*—Portage, Pa. College—Wake Forest

This rugged forward was purchased from the Philadelphia 76ers Oct. 21, 1963. The first draft choice of the Syracuse Nationals (now Philadelphia) in 1962, Chappell played in all 80 of the Nats' games last season. Averaging only 15 minutes of playing time per game, he scored 8.9 and hit on 46.5 percent of his field-goal attempts. In addition, he grabbed 461 rebounds.

Chappell, an All-America as a senior at Wake Forest, totalled 2,165 points in his three-year varsity career with the Deacons, a record for the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was selected to the league's all-star team three seasons and as the outstanding player in two. In addition, he was chosen the ACC's athlete-of-the-year as a senior. Len had a three-year scoring average of 24.9 at Wake Forest with 14 rebounds per game. While a sophomore with the Deacons, he was a teammate of Dave Budd. Chappell collected 2,240 points in high school at Portage, Pa., only 12 less than Wilt Chamberlain at Overbrook H. S. in Philadelphia. Another one in the growing number of athletes who wears contact lenses.

TOM HOOVER

Age*—22, born in Washington, D. C., Jan. 23, 1941
Height*—6 feet 9 inches. Weight—230 pounds
Home*—Philadelphia, Pa. College—Villanova

Tom was acquired from the Philadelphia 76ers on waivers at the start of the season. Hoover was the No. 1 draft choice of the Syracuse Nationals (now Philadelphia) at the 1963 meetings. Philadelphia released Hoover when Connie Dierking came out of retirement to back up veteran Johnny Kerr. Hoover, now a resident of Philadelphia, was a nationally prominent basketball player and football end at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D. C. He was named to the All-America scholastic court team in 1959, the same year that Art Heyman was so honored. "He is strong and a good leaper," says Knick coach Eddie Donovan. "He gets the ball off the defensive backboard and quickly sets up the fast break."

GENE CONLEY

Age*—33, born in Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 10, 1930
Height*—6 feet 8 inches. Weight—225 pounds
Home*—Foxboro, Mass. College—Washington State

Conley, in his first season with the New York Knicks last winter, scored 630 points in 70 games for a 9.0 average, his best offensive record in five NBA campaigns, four of them with the Boston Celtics. Gene was New York's third best rebounder with 471. The Knicks obtained Conley from the Chicago Zephyrs, Sept. 10, 1962, for Phil Jordon and rookie Cliff Luyk. Chicago (now the Baltimore Bullets) a new NBA entrant in 1961 selected Conley from a pool of players designated by the eight other league clubs. However, he did not report to the Zephyrs. Gene played one year of varsity basketball at Washington State then signed as a pitcher with the Boston Braves. His first season with the Boston Celtics was 1952-53, then he quit basketball for five years. He returned to the Celts in 1958 and remained through 1961. Averaging less than 20 minutes playing time per game in 1960 and 1961, Gene nevertheless took 1,140 rebounds, an average of 8, and scored 950 points. He played on three straight Boston championship squads, 1959-61. The past two seasons he pitched for the Boston Red Sox, but a shoulder injury sidelined him most of the 1963 schedule. As a high school athlete in Richland, Wash., Conley won letters in basketball, baseball and high jump.

Age*—30, born in Philadelphia, Jan. 13, 1933
Height*—6 feet 6 inches. Weight—205 pounds
Home*—Philadelphia. College—LaSalle

Ranked among the all-time greats as a collegian at LaSalle, Gola came to the New York Knicks on Dec. 5, 1962 from the San Francisco Warriors in a trade for Willie Naulls and Kenny Sears. He was the Knicks' fourth leading scorer for 1962-63 with 896 points, a 12.3 average. He was runner-up to Richie Guerin in assists with 298, to Dave Budd in field goal percentage, .465 and to Johnny Green in rebounds 507. This is Tom's eighth NBA season. The Warrior franchise was shifted to San Francisco last year. Gola is famed for his hustle, superb ball handling and defense. He plays forward or guard equally well and is solid proof a player doesn't have to score in astronomical figures to be one of the NBA's most valuable men. Tom was All-America three times at LaSalle and twice voted the outstanding college player in the nation. He led LaSalle to the National Tournament title, in Madison Square Garden, as a freshman in 1952 and two years later paced the Explorers to the National Collegiate championship. He was chosen most valuable player in the 1952 and 1954 Holiday Festival, played in the Garden, and shared the honor with teammate Norm Grekin in the 1952 Invitation. Gola was selected four times for the annual NBA All-Star Game, but did not play in 1962 because of a broken hand.

JOHNNY GREEN

Age*—30, born in Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 8, 1933
Height*—6 feet 5 inches. Weight—200 pounds
Home*—Dayton, Ohio. College—Michigan State

"Jumping Johnny" was one of the most improved players in the league last season. This was affirmed when he was selected for the 13th annual NBA All-Star Game at Los Angeles and played a prominent role in the East's victory. Green, for the second straight year, was the Knicks' top rebounder and also was runner-up to Richie Guerin in scoring. He had 964 rebounds last season, seventh best in the league, and scored 1,444 points for an 18.1 average, 15th in the standings. This was an increase of 159 points over 1961-62. Green was the only Knick to appear in all 80 games for the second successive campaign. Johnny was New York's first draft choice in 1959 and was primarily a rebounder. It is not unusual for the 6-5 leaper to get his elbow above the rim of the basket. What hard work did for him scoring-wise is indicated by the records. In his rookie year, his average was 7.0, then successively 10.2, 16.1 and 18.1. This is his fifth season with the Knicks, and it is believed the ex-Michigan State star has yet to reach his full potential. Green is second to Harry Gallatin for Knick rebounds in one season. Gallatin, now coach of the St. Louis Hawks, grabbed 1,098 in 1953-54, 32 more than Green's 1961-62 total. Johnny was all-Big Ten three years. He did not play high school basketball. He first took up the sport while with the Marines. He was an unanimous all-service selection after leading Atsugi Air Base (Japan) to the Central Command title.

BILL McGILL

Age*—24, born in San Angelo, Texas, Sept. 16, 1939
Height*—6 feet 9 inches. Weight—215 pounds
Home*—Los Angeles, Cal. College—Utah

Obtained by the Knickerbockers Oct. 29, 1963 from the Baltimore Bullets in a trade for Gene Shue and Paul Hogue. First draft choice of the Chicago Zephyrs (now Baltimore) in 1962 but saw limited action behind Walt Bellamy. Playing only 10 minutes per game, Bill averaged 7.2 with a fine .513 field goal percentage. One of the great shooters in the game today, the former Utah All-America has a fine hook shot, a hook-jump and the normal jump shot. Bill broke every school scoring record in his brilliant three-year career at Utah, where he was twice selected All-America. He scored 60 points against Brigham Young for a Skyline Conference record and led the nation as a senior with a 38.8 average. His shooting percentage in his last year at Utah was a phenomenal .588. In his junior year, he led the Utes to the semi-final round of the NCAA tournament. One of the all-time California prep stars at Jefferson High School in Los Angeles.

Height*—6 feet 5 inches. Weight—205 pounds
Home*—Rockville Centre, N. Y. College—Duke

Sensational career at Duke and the Knicks' top draft selection for 1963. Three years All-America. Named most valuable player in the 1963 NCAA tourney, at Louisville, even though Duke was eliminated in semi-finals. Also MVP for the 1963 East-West college game at Lexington, Ky. Three times all-Atlantic Coast Conference. Last season his 747 points (30 games) was highest total in major college competition. His 24.9 average was ninth best. Set Duke career mark of 1,984 points, breaking old record of 1,886 made by Dick Groat, St. Louis Cardinals' shortstop, in 1950-52. Heyman averaged 30 points as Duke freshman. Terrific rebounder, driver and playmaker. Can play either forward or guard. Played scholastic basketball at Oceanside High, Long Island. Bulls his way to the basket like Elgin Baylor and Tommy Heinshon. What some of the coaches said about him: Bones McKinney (Wake Forest)—"I wouldn't attempt to add any adjectives about Heyman. He's great." Richie Regan (Seton Hall)—"As fine a college player as I have seen. I think he has a great future as a pro." Red Auerbach (Boston Celtics)—"Heyman was best of the collegians last season." George King (West Virginia)—"He's got to be the best college player in America. He does everything. Why, he even invents plays to beat you." Ed Hickey (Marquette)—"Heyman has the grace of a Bob Cousy, the strength of Tom Gola and the speed and smartness of a Bill Russell." Heyman's varsity records at Duke follow:

Rudometkin was New York's second draft pick in 1962 after setting University of Southern California career records in scoring and rebounding. With the Knicks last season he played only 572 minutes in 56 games as a forward replacement. His totals were 289 points, a 5.2 average, 150 rebounds and 30 assists. Rudy graduated from USC hailed as the greatest player in Trojan history. His points, 1,484, were 400 more than made by the ex-USC and Boston Celtics' star Bill Sharman. He led the Trojans in scoring three straight years and the Big Five Conference as a junior and senior. He boasts nine of the ten career marks listed in the USC basketball guide. Only Sharman's three-year free throw percentage record eluded Rudometkin and the former was recognized as the best foul shooter in the NBA. Rudometkin set an amazing record as a prep schooler at Santa Maria High. He was twice named to the All-America scholastic scoring 966 points as a junior and 781 as a senior.

BILL NORRIS—Team Trainer

Twenty-one year old Bill Norris, the Knickerbockers' new trainer, has the distinction of being the youngest major league conditioner in the country. Norris, from Ft. Myers, Fla., is in his first season with the Knicks after serving with the New York Mets' Auburn farm team during the 1963 New York-Penn League baseball season.

Norris began preparation for a trainer's job when he was only 12 years old, as a batboy, and then assistant clubhouse man at the Pittsburgh Pirates' training camp in Ft. Myers.

Bill graduated from Ft. Myers High School in 1960 where he played baseball and football. He then enrolled at Manatee Junior College, in Bradenton, specializing in physiology.

The clubhouse bug bit him after three semesters in school and he joined the Milwaukee Braves' organization in 1962 at Dublin in the Georgia-Florida League.

Last winter he attended a training school of Mets' Gus Mauch in Kissimmee, Fla. Upon graduation, he worked at the Mets' camp in St. Petersburg and the minor league camp at Columbus, Ga., before going to Auburn.
